Posting of workers in France

Any employer based outside France who is providing services in France must send a declaration of posting to the French labour inspectorate at the place where the service has to be performed, prior to the commencement of the service provision. This declaration must be sent in French by registered letter with acknowledgement of receipt, fax, or email.

From now on, if you provide services in France, you may send the prior declaration of posting online via the following address:

-  If you use this online procedure, you don't have to send the declaration by post or fax, even though these two means of transmission still remain possible;
